On the 28th paſt they began to dig, in order to lay the Foundation of a new Wing which the King has reſolved to have added to the Royal Palace. The Workmen employed on this Occaſion found in digging ſome Pots of Silver, which they concealed; but the Affair having been diſcovered, the Workmen were immediately taken up and ſent to Priſon, ſince which they have produced three Pots, which have been taken from them and preſented to the King.

The ſame Advices add, that on the 7th of laſt Month there happened a very ſharp Action between a Body of Light-Horſe belonging to the Crown Army, and a conſiderable Party of Heyducks, in which ſeveral were killed and wounded, but that at laſt the Heyducks had been entirely routed, and obliged to retire to the Mountains with the Loſs of all their Plunder, and one of their principal Leaders, who was taken Priſoner.

On Thurſday laſt the Duke our Sovereign, accompanied by the Hereditary Prince, went to view the new Road which is making from hence to Maſſa, and ſeemed greatly pleaſed, not only with the Beauty and Solidity of it, but alſo with the Diligence that is uſed in carrying it on; and the rather, as this Road will very much contribute to facilitate the Commerce of this Country with that of Maſſa. They were received very graciouſly; and the Crown General aſſured them, in his Majeſty's Name, that all proper Meaſures ſhould be immediately taken ſo to cover their Country with Light Horſe, as to prevent the like Incurſions for the Future. The extraordinary Dyet, which opened on the 4th Inſtant, ſtill continue their Aſſembly, but the Debates have run ſo high, that they have not as yet been able to chuſe a Marſhal.
